VISIT WITH JEAN GRAY MOHS

Jean Gray Mohs recently visited classes online from her studio in Raleigh, NC. Jean Gray is a painter, installation artists and arts advocate who was invited to speak to Visual Arts and Art Appreciation classes about her journey as an artist. Part of Jean Gray's story is that three years ago she received a double-lung transplant – which changed her life completely. Although now active and continuing to exhibit work, the pandemic has changed the way she and many immunocompromised people interact within the world.
