ANDREW STARK PAINTING INSTALLED AT THE LANDING

Assistant Professor of Practice Andrew Stark installed a 7' x 10' oil painting titled "Coalescence" in the entrance of a newly completed Kilbourne Group project in Fargo.

The Landing is a $30 million mixed-use development at 1001 Northern Pacific Avenue in downtown Fargo that broke ground October 2020 and officially began welcoming residents to their new homes in August 2022. The name is a nod to the site's historical roots as a planing mill served by a Northern Pacific rail spur. The project is designed to create a strong welcome to Fargo's walkable downtown as visitors enter from the 10th Street underpass. Stark began in the summer of 2021 and painted for over a year on the large scale work.

2022 FALL BACCALAUREATE RECEPTION

NOVEMBER 8

On Tuesday, Artists Babylyne Sanchez, Anna Lund and Alex Light will be showcasing their newest artwork at the MU Gallery for the 2022 Baccalaureate Exhibition. The artists will be giving talks about their work starting at 5:30pm but the reception will take place from 5-7pm. Each artist's work explores different topics like what binds a family, what makes you feel yourself and how do we address social issues like gun violence.

If you are interested in watching online, a webinar is available at ndsuh.edu/mu/gallery.

PENSEES ARCHITECTURALE

Dr. Mahalingam would like to invite you to a dialog on his blog site that provides musings on esoteric aspects of Architecture in provocative chunks. His goal in posting to this blog is to stimulate conversations about the provocative ideas being put forth. He encourages you, as a fellow traveler, to join the journey, and help the design community arrive at surprising destinations.

CALL FOR ENTRIES: ART SYNDICATE NOVEMBER 11

The Art Syndicate - a network of local artists that collaborate with local businesses to put on events for the community is looking for entries! We have our 8th show coming up on November 18th. We would love to get more students involved and provide an outlet for them to connect to the community. We focus on promoting local art, local business, and community engagement and create spaces for people to experience art in new and unexpected ways.

This year's themes are generally open to interpretation - the main word for this show is FUNK. A portion of this show will be displayed upside down - complete with a couch flipped on its back for viewing! - and we are looking to really dig into perspective. Crooked art or art that is meant to be hung at an angle or another creative way is highly encouraged! We like to push artists to try something new or play to different artists' strengths as we change the theme up depending on the local business we are working with.
